Schools weigh 5-mill tax increase

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

The Romulus Board of Education seemingly has no recourse but to request a raise in school millage to compensate for an anticipated $1 million deficit during the next school year, school official said.

School Supt. James Garfield said during a recent meeting that rising costs in the budget and decreasing revenues from taxes will leave the district $1 million short in trying to cover next year's anticipated $10.7 million education budget.

"We're expecting as much as a 10-percent increase in overall costs, and at least a five-percent personnel cost increase during the next budget," Garfield said. "But we're anticipating only $9.7 million in all sources of revenue."

Revenue to the district actually will drop next year at present tax rates, since the district will have to use a new method to compute tax collections.

The state's new single business tax, designed to aid businesses in Michigan in computing their taxes each year, has eliminated the personal property tax from the total to be considered when computing property tax.

In Romulus' case the change means that the district will realize $33,000 less per mill next year from the levels it collected this year.

Tax collections at the same millage rate next year would amount to $5.06 million, assuming all taxes are paid on time. However, this year, the same millage rate would have raised $5.97 million at a 100-percent collection rate.

Garfield has informed the board that it will have to consider at least a five-mill tax increase - an action which has the potential of raising $915,000 more in taxes next year.

Coupled with that, the superintendent said the district still will have to consider cutting some expenses possibly by closing at least two of the district's elementary schools.

At the same time the millage increase is being considered, the superintendent warned the board that the drop in the "value" of an individual mill requires a raise in the debt millage to cover costs - possibly increasing that millage from 5.9-mills this year to seven mills next year.

And then the district will have to wrestle with the question of renewing a 10-mill levy which is to expire this July.

"There are no easy answers to the questions we face," Garfield said. "I don't know what to tell the board, other than these times are rough, and there's little hope for help from the state or other sources."

One board member to comment on Garfield's assessment of the situation was Jack Bath, who advocated putting the millage renewal question on the ballot as soon as possible.

He said, "The state is facing a money crunch, and has rearranged taxes to solve its problem, but what it amounts to is lowering the amount of money sent to school districts and asking us to raise the taxes at the district level."

"It's shifting the burden from the state to local government, and little else."

"Finding the money is still the problem."

'It scares me what can happen'

School board member sees rough financial road ahead

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

The veteran member of the Romulus Board of Education sees a rough road ahead for education in Romulus, if not throughout the entire state, during the next few years.

Carl Morris, a member of the school body for the past 20 years and a member of the Wayne County Intermediate School District said the present financial situation in Romulus "is the worst I've seen since the late '50s" and said he doesn't see any easy answers to school financial problems.

"I've been to the state capital several times during the past few months," Morris said. "But I see little hope for improvement in the school finance situation until the state economy improves."

Morris said that board members should not be fooled by the "even year politicking" of state legislators who are introducing new legislation for the improvement of school finances, since "half the bills are introduced to make the legislator look good in his own district during an election year."

"The best example I see of how bad things are is the governor's proposed state budget, which includes only $10 million as a state aid improvement factor for school districts which lost tax levies through the introduction of the single business tax," Morris said. "Under the promise of at least a six percent improvement in state aid to compensate for the loss of inventory tax under the new statewide tax structure, I calculate that Romulus should receive $500,000 in increased aid."

"That amounts to five percent of the entire allotment set aside for the improvement factor, and Romulus doesn't have five percent of the pupils in the state."

"It looks like a rough road ahead," Morris said the district shouldn't look toward the legislature for help because of the change in the state's fiscal year to 15-months in 1975-76 which is designed to promote a balanced budget.

"It means that while the district is wrestling with finances at the school level, the legislature, which hasn't been too quick to pass state aid in the past anyway, will have until October before voting on state aid," Morris said. "That means the district will not have any word on state aid for the next school year until well after the budget has to be approved."

"And state aid is even more critical to us this year."

Morris said the district will have to look to itself for any relief from the financial crunch.

"We've discussed closing at least two schools, but I'm thinking that it may take the closing of three schools and possibly one of the junior high schools as a money-saving measure," Morris said.

"I expect a long hot summer wrestling with the district budget in an attempt to pass it, and I don't think the district should look to anyone for help.

"It scares me what can happen to education the next few years, and from my position it looks terribly bleak."

We need news

In an effort to give Romulus citizens more news about their community, The Romulus Roman is asking residents and various clubs and organizations to submit news and feature items for publication.

It is the desire of the Roman to expand coverage in the area, but it is important that we first open up lines of communication. News releases may be addressed to Editor, Romulus Roman, 35540 Michigan, Wayne, Mich. 48184.

Home for senior citizens

Romulus this week will open a Senior Citizens Drop-in Center at the community's Recreation Building, located at 36515 Bibbins St. Bill Case, a utility and maintenance worker with the Department of Public Works, lends his effort to complete the new facility in time for its grand opening Friday. Looking on is Gayle Youtsey, Recreation Department secretary. — ANP photo.

'Long overlooked'

Senior citizens get new center

The needs of the senior citizens in Romulus "long have been overlooked and ignored," according to Mayor James C. Stewart.

In an effort to overcome this situation, Stewart this week announced the opening of a Senior Citizens' Drop-in Center. The new senior citizens' facility is located in the Recreation Department Building, formerly the old Water Department Building at 36515 Bibbins St.

The opening day for the long-awaited drop-in center is this Friday from 1 to 4 p.m.

The mayor, along with Marie DeBuysscher, recreation director, and Joan Haubrich, recreation coordinator, have extended an invitation to all Romulus senior citizens to attend the festivities.

The senior citizens will have an opportunity to meet people while inspecting the center and learning of the programs planned for their recreation, Stewart said. Refreshments will be served.

The activities planned for the Recreation Building include ceramics classes, sewing and crocheting, games, such as billiards, darts and cards and a reading corner for those who just want to read or listen to music.

Other activities offered by the Parks and Recreation Department for senior citizens are:

Square dance lessons, a bowling league, "Shop-and-Show" trip, field trips and an occasional longer jaunt, such as the overnight trip to Niagara Falls being planned for June.

More than 150 senior citizens presently are participating in the various programs offered by the Romulus Recreation Department. Transportation is provided for most activities, Mrs. Du DeBuysscher said.

"I have been waiting to do something for the senior citizens of Romulus for a long time and I am delighted to have been able to get the program coordinated and in motion so soon after taking office," Stewart said.

"During my campaign, I promised the senior citizens of Romulus a place of their own and now I am fulfilling that promise," he added.

The new drop-in center is conveniently located near the Romulus Post Office, a super market, a bank and other downtown shopping facilities.

Included on the staff of the Romulus Recreation Department, besides DeBuysscher and Haubrich, are Gayle Youtsey and Vicky Brainard, all of whom are available to answer calls for additional information regarding the center.

The number to call is 941-0666, extension 67 or 68.

The office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Economic development director says residential construction should improve

Although nothing concrete can be announced yet, Romulus' director of economic development believes that construction in the community will improve over that experienced during the past five years.

"I think people are at the point where they will decide there will be no better time to build than now," said Hyle J. Carmichael, the city's economic development director. "Business has decided that waiting for better economic times may be futile, and expansion of facilities has to begin now."

Carmichael said that although he sees better times ahead in construction in the community, he does not see it in the area of commercial construction.

"When you talk about a shopping center, you're talking about little action," the economic developer said. "I've discussed the land on Wayne Road near Smith Road with the Chatham Shopping Center people, and they're more interested in selling it."

"What they're looking for is a captive clientele of 30,000-40,000 people for a supermarket and shopping center," Carmichael said. "We just don't have the people here to support that type of business."

Carmichael said that the city is "deeply interested" in a proposal to build a national solar energy research institute on land in Romulus - most likely the land owned by Wayne County near Van Born and Venoy Roads.

"Any business which would employ

1,500 people is more than welcome," said the economic coordinator. "We're interested, and lobbying for it, where we can, but the decision right now is up to state and national people."

Carmichael said he expected to hear some word on the national solar energy research development "by the end of the year."

In addition to the industry and energy research developments Carmichael's hoping for, the developer said that he has had no contact with developers of "theme parks" rumored to be looking toward Romulus for space to build in the Detroit area.

Better than a year ago, developers of the Cedar Point amusement park in Ohio initiated discussions with city officials on a possible site in Romulus for a park, however no concrete plans were announced.

"I've heard of the discussions, but there has been no feedback on the proposal," Carmichael said. "I've also heard the rumor that another amusement park developer was interested in the city, but no one from that company has approached us."

"If they came, we'd welcome them, but nothing has been said yet by any developer who could deliver such a facility to the city."

Faust asks for audit of county drain books

Check to determine maintenance revenues

State Sen. William Faust (D), Westland, has asked that the Michigan State Department of the Treasury audit the books of the Wayne County Drain Commissioner's office.

Faust, who also represents Belleville and Romulus, asked for the audit as a means to determine the amount of money collected by Wayne County drain Commissioner Charles N. Youngblood for "drain maintenance" on largely rural drains in Wayne County.

The action grew out of public protest to Youngblood's recent special assessment scheme charging residents of Van Buren, Huron and Sumpter townships and the City of Romulus in excess of what public officials believe is the $800 per mile limitation for drain maintenance.

Officials say many drains in those communities subject to the assessment haven't been touched by a drain commissioner's worker during the past 120 years.

"The senator was unaware of any problem with the present drain commissioner's operation until officials from the townships protested the drain assessment scheme, and lobbied at the State House Drainage Committee level against a senate bill which would have raised the limit the commissioner could charge for maintenance," a Faust aide said.

"There was no public dissent to the bill when it went through the state senate, and the senate even voted in favor of the measure."

"But once we learned of the opposition, we asked the House Drainage Committee to look into the potential impact of the bill, and to see if something can be done to learn how the drain commissioner's office is operating in Wayne County."

Faust voted for the bill, which would have raised the limit for drain assessments from the present $800 per mile to $2,000 per mile in counties of over 250,000 in population. After he had notified local officials of the measure and its contents, and received no feedback from them.

"The senator's office was unaware of any problem until Julia Sawmiller from Van Buren Township wrote to the office requesting some help in obtaining an explanation of her drain assessment," the aide said. "After we looked into the matter on Mrs. Sawmiller's property, and began hearing from officials from local communities, we decided to take some action."

Although a state senator cannot order the Department of the Treasury to audit the books of another agency, the aide said that the request most likely would be carried out because of the hint of abuse in the drain commissioner's assessment actions.

No date has been set for the audit.

Following Ford veto

Romulus will go it alone

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

Romulus citizens will be forced to "go it alone", following the veto of a federal public works bill by President Gerald Ford.

The President's veto of a $6.2 billion public works bill, which would have funded 100 percent of some public works projects, kills a hope started in late summer that the city's new fire station, slated for construction on the northwest corner of Eureka and Middle Belt roads, would be included in the public works package.

The President's veto of the bill, which he termed "inflationary" was overridden by the House of Representatives, including a vote to override the bill by congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District), but was upheld by a 3-vote margin in the U.S. Senate.

On the Senate side, Sen. Philip Hart voted to override the veto while Sen. Robert Griffin voted to sustain the President's veto.

Despite the setback on the federal public works bill, work is progressing toward partial funding of the fire station with funds to be obtained from the Wayne County Road Commission WCRC for the purchase of the Romulus-owned 34th District Court Building and the existing fire station for the south end of the city next door to the court building.

Mayor James C. Stewart indicated last week that the city Building Authority is perusing three separate architectural designs for the new court building, slated for construction near the Romulus Civic Center.

Once plans are accepted by the city, work will begin on negotiating a "fair return" from the WCRC for the court-fire station site.

The city property on Eureka Road stands in the way of both the expansion of Detroit Metropolitan Airport and right-of-way acquisition for the widening of Eureka Road.

Plans had been to apply the purchase price for the site and buildings entirely to the fire station, or to work out the purchase of the city land through a trade with the WCRC for the corner parcel needed for the fire station.

State Senate adopts rule: Opening meets to public

The Michigan State Senate has adopted a measure which requires most meetings of legislative bodies at the municipal, school, county and state levels to be open to the public.

The measure, which was approved 27-6 by the senate, was designed to promote more awareness of government at all levels by citizens.

Voting in favor of the measure was State Sen. William Faust (D-13th District), whose district includes Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron townships, and the cities of Belleville, Romulus, Wayne and Westland.

While the measure requires most meetings to be open to the public, the bill gives an "out" to public bodies by offering them the discretion of closing sessions to discuss personnel matters, anticipated or pending litigation, real estate transactions and records which are exempted by law from public inspections.

Opponents of the bill indicated that the exemptions granted public bodies effectively gutted the measure, and prevented full public participation in all government matters.

Alliance sponsors dancing

The Polish National Alliance of Sumpter Township, is sponsoring a St. Joseph Day Dance between 8 p.m. and 1 a.m. at the PNA Hall on Sumpter near Harris road in Sumpter Township.

Tickets are $6 per person and include music by "Larry Michaels" beer and set-ups and a light buffet dinner.

Tickets are available at the door, or can be picked up Saturday at the PNA Hall between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Agencies and boards specifically mentioned as being covered by the bill include state legislative sessions (which have always been open to the public) boards of education, community college and state university governing bodies, county boards of commissioners, city councils and local elective or appointed boards and commissions.

Adoption of the bill came after the senate rejected a flurry of amendments.

One amendment asked that senators who share a ride to the legislature prior to a session be exempted from the bill's provisions in the event they discuss a pending item.

Freeway construction will delay I-94 east

Motorists on east-bound I-94 just east of US-23 near Ypsilanti will encounter delays of up to a half hour this Sunday, according to the Department of State Highways and Transportation.

The delays will be caused by erection of steel over the I-94 freeway at the US-12 interchange, now under construction. Work will begin at 7 a.m. and cease at 3 p.m., leaving the freeway clear after working hours. The westbound I-94 lanes will not be affected.

All motorists with scheduled airline departures at the Detroit Metropolitan Airport are advised to seek alternate routes or make allowances in their road travel time to the airport for the possible delays.

Seafarer called nuclear deterrent...

By TOM OCHILTREE
Panax Washington Correspondent

Editor's note: Second of a two-part series on Project Seafarer, a sophisticated communications system the Navy wants to locate in the Upper Peninsula.

The U.S. Navy possesses one all-important reason for wanting to install Seafarer.

Its planning for the gravest emergencies is based on the assumption that this advanced communications system, plus our nuclear-armed and-powered submarines, will enable an American president, in times of extreme danger, to carry out a "deliberate controlled response under any condition of war initiation."

If the President plays his hand properly, war — particularly the horror of an all-out nuclear exchange — will be avoided. In poker terms the potential enemy will back off without calling the hand.

Seafarer's importance to this deterrent arrangement can best be seen by imagining a scenario involving the United States and the Soviet Union, the other superpower.

At some future date action by the Kremlin and reaction by Washington start mounting the ladder of diplomatic escalation. Soon it becomes clear the two countries are on a collision course. Lights burn all night in the operations room of the Pentagon and in the White House itself.

While leaving a way for the Russians to back down and still save face, the President and his top aides get word to Moscow via the hot line that our fleet ballistic missile submarines are on station in waters around the Eurasian land mass armed with rockets capable of reaching targets throughout the Soviet Union.

Further, we let Moscow think over how survivable the vast majority of these submarines are because the Russians will have no sure way of finding them.

And as a clincher we convince

Moscow that the President is in touch with these submarines by means of a communications system the Russians are unable to jam.

Suddenly this test of wills loses its appeal to the Russians. Any pre-emptive strike launched by the Soviet side will bring an American reply powerful enough to bring the Soviet Union to its knees literally in a matter of minutes.

The Seafarer system, which the Navy wants to locate in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, consists of an underground antenna capable of transmitting extremely low frequency (ELF) radio signals to our submarines operating at great depth and full speed anywhere in the world's oceans. This makes the submarines almost impossible for an enemy to knock out. And that, in turn, makes the American nuclear deterrent that much more believable to a possible enemy.

The Seafarer antenna is in the form of a grid of buried cables located approximately three to six feet underground. The grid itself would extend over an area of 3,000 to 4,000 square miles. The antenna cables would be between one and six miles apart. The cable itself would be about two to three inches in diameter.

Here are some of the questions people living in the upper peninsula have raised about Seafarer and the Navy's answers:

Will Seafarer make the people of Northern Michigan the top priority target for an enemy nuclear attack?

The Navy believes they will be in less danger with Seafarer functioning than they are now for the very reason that the American deterrent will be so improved. In any event if a nuclear war breaks out there will be no place in the United States to hide, or in the Soviet Union either, for that matter. Upper Peninsula residents will be in the same degree of danger — no more, no less — as residents of Detroit, Chicago, Washington, New York, New Orleans, San Francisco or any other American city. The whole emphasis must be on preventing such a war.

Will ELF radiation from the grid be harmful?

Forty separate studies conducted by the Navy and independent research teams over the past six years "show no significant adverse effects on humans, animals, plants or micro-organisms at field levels planned to be used for an operational ELF system."

According to Navy scientists, the energy levels from an ELF antenna are much less than those found in an ordinary lighted room.

Will scenic beauty and the function of the land be distorted by an ELF system?

The Navy said people and buildings would not be relocated as a result of the construction. Antenna cables would be routed to avoid buildings, historic monuments, villages and towns. Trees would be avoided where possible. Natural barriers such as lakes and large rivers would not be crossed by the cable which can be terminated on one side and restarted on the other.

The preferred method for installing ELF antenna cables, the Navy explained, "is with a vibratory plow which cuts a narrow slit in the earth, automatically installs the cable and then closes the slit immediately thereafter."

Transmitter stations for the grid would be housed in inconspicuous buildings above the ground.

Construction of the system would take between two to four years and give employment for approximately 600 persons. Once in operation the system would be manned by 60 to 90 military personnel and about 100 civilians. The Navy assumed that many of the contracts for construction would go to qualified companies within Michigan, and said this would provide a definite economic boost for the area.

As we see it

Proposed weight tax: Inconsistency abounds

Gov. William G. Milliken's proposal to tax cars according to their value instead of their weight shows how quickly priorities and arguments can be changed.

The proposal to tax cars according to their value came in the governor's transportation message to the legislature. Its primary purpose is to help generate an additional $80 million a year to finance public transportation funds.

Michigan traditionally has taxed its cars according to their weight. The original reason for this was that heavier cars caused more highway wear than light cars. The drivers were, in effect, paying in proportion to the wear their cars inflicted on the road.

Then came the energy crisis and the tax had a new reason for existing — the single biggest determinant of gasoline usage by a car is its weight. European countries have traditionally socked heavy taxes on the weight or engine size of cars to keep their size down because Europe is almost totally dependent on imported oil.

But the Arab oil boycott has long since ended and any feelings of immediacy about the energy situation have gone, even though this country today imports more oil than ever. We still have the 55-mile-per hour speed limit to make everyone think they are doing their part by slowing down a little, but that's about it.

With that background, the governor had a problem. He needed to generate more money from autos and the weight tax didn't have any growth built into it. In fact, American cars are getting lighter. General Motors is paring 1,000 pounds off its biggest models for 1977. That means weight tax revenues go down.

Staffers didn't want to raise the weight tax because they felt it would get too expensive for owners of old, big cars.

The solution? Change the tax to a tax on value. The primary advantage to that is that as car prices go up and up, the tax revenues go up and up.

No one knows yet what sort of tax rates will be suggested, not even the governor's office. But it's a certainty nearly everyone will pay more.

Ironically, the governor said one advantage of the change would be it would be a more progressive tax based on ability to pay. This is the same governor who has consistently opposed a graduated income tax. This is also the same governor who so joyfully greeted repeal of the federal excise tax on cars a couple of years back because it would lower the cost of new cars. Now he is going to jack up the price of a new car by putting a higher registration fee on it.

Those inconsistencies aside, however, the fact that stands out is it appears those in power weren't all that serious when they were urging us to use less gasoline.

When automakers and drivers took seriously the entreaties of government, the government couldn't afford it. Now it wants to change the signals and put another element into the inflation of new car prices.

It's the sort of thing that helps make people cynical about their government.

With a little luck, Michigan may yet make a final decision on Project Seafarer based on a cool, rational analysis of the facts rather than on pure emotion.

The foundation for such a turn of events has been laid by the Michigan Environmental Review Board (MERB) as it oversees the preparation by the Navy of an environmental impact statement for the project.

An environmental impact statement is exactly what its name implies — a document outlining all the impacts a proposed project will have on an area. MERB Chairman Dr. William Cooper of Michigan State University and his fellow committee members have been working to make sure this is a good one as they outline the questions they want answered when the statement is completed in the fall.

"We don't want any surprises on either side," he told Navy officials at a recent meeting in Lansing. "We want to make sure you understand what we are asking and we want to know now if answers aren't available to any of the questions

'Let's face it...Seafarer isn't a project any more. It's a religion.'

either because of a lack of knowledge or because some information is classified."

The next step in his overseeing of the statement will be a meeting with the Navy researchers in the biological and ecological fields of the study.

"We want to get the basis of your research," he told the Navy officials. "We want to look at your quality control on the research and at your research contracts. Very frankly, the first round of stuff you brought to us had a lot of poor quality stuff."

That "first round of stuff" had some studies which seemed to indicate the possibility of some damage, at least to the more vociferous opponents of Seafarer. They grabbed it and trumpeted it as proof Seafarer was bad, in an approach much more emotional than cerebral.

One of the Navy officials pinpointed the problem with what was intended as an offhand remark.

"Let's face it," he smiled. "Seafarer isn't a project any more. It's a religion."

His remark accurately reflected the emotions which have been raised in the debate over the issue.

What Cooper and his colleagues hope is that when all is said and done, they can come up with a clear, concise picture of the facts of the situation and make a solid recom-

Judge calls it a 'dismal failure'

Plea bargaining no bargain at all; Action to phase out concept urged

By THOMAS J. FOLEY
Wayne Circuit Judge

Plea bargaining has been a dismal failure.

Of times hailed as an expedient method of disposing of criminal cases, plea bargaining lends itself to greater permissiveness in our society and violates the basic American constitutional concepts.

Our founding fathers, with great wisdom, devised three branches of government — administrative, judicial and legislative. Each was a co-equal with one another; each with its own sphere of operation.

The legislative process by which criminal laws are enacted evolves from long periods of study, hearing and debate and generally culminates in laws representative of the varying forces in society.

The fact that murder, rape, armed robbery carry possible life sentences and such crimes as larceny and breaking and entering carry lesser punishments is not a matter of happenstance, but the result of deliberate legislative acts designed to fit particular human behavior to specific studied penalties.

Neither the administrative nor judicial branches of government may constitutionally legislate. Often, when one branch of government infringes upon the functions of another, built-in safeguards are immediately abandoned and the system goes off in uncharted areas creating even greater problems than originally existed.

The courts have been constitutionally delegated the power to interpret and apply criminal statutes and common law. Great discretion has been delegated to determine applicable sentences. Costly and lengthy investigative procedures are employed by probate departments to insure that the judicial application of criminal penalties be accurate and within the legislative dictates.

Plea bargaining, on the other hand, places in the hands of a prosecutor — essentially an administrative officer — the opportunity to usurp the legislative process. In plea bargaining this administrative officer determines that a penalty of less than legislative sanction will fit a given set of fact outlining erratic human conduct.

This limits judicial discretion when attempting to tailor a sentence to fit the facts and determines before probation investigation and before judicial determination what the limits of sentencing will be.

Thus, we have administrative infringement upon the other branches of government without adequate safeguards being provided.

Criminal laws no longer act as a deterrent to crime because any sophisticated criminal knows — at least believes — that even if caught in the commission of a serious offense he probably will be able to "cop a plea to a lesser offense" and limit the potential penalty for his criminal conduct. Thus the legislative effort to deter crime is frustrated.

It is argued that plea bargaining keeps the courts from being inundated by criminal cases. This argument however presupposes that all pleas bargained would become trials in the absence of compromise. Experience has proven otherwise.

If the energies now used to avoid carrying out the laws as written by legislative dictate are put into an educational program aimed at phasing out the concept of plea bargaining, the criminal law system will operate as it was and is intended without the utter hypocrisy involved in the bargaining procedures.

It would not be difficult to educate the populace to the basic concept that a defendant who admits his guilt by reason of his acts has taken the first step toward rehabilitation. Recognition of this most important self-evaluation is an important factor to any court called upon to evaluate the defendant for his future potential.

This most important recognition of guilt is either non-existent or severely compromised, when a defendant has bargained for a lesser offense. The court thus has lost an important tool in its sentencing procedure.

The appellate courts have placed an official stamp of approval upon the bargained plea. They have concluded that if certain questions are asked and certain answers are given the plea is valid. Such a conclusion that a plea of guilty resulting from such bargaining to a lesser offense where it is claimed that such plea is freely, understandingly and voluntarily given and without promise of leniency, without threat, is sheer hypocrisy.

The body-politic can thus be said to have sacrificed the integrity of its processes for the sake of what is argued as expedient. That this uncharted course has lent itself to encourage greater permissiveness cannot be seriously denied.

There is a need for immediate steps to phase out the concept of plea bargaining and initiate an educational process to pave the way for the use of our system of criminal law as it is constitutionally provided and originally written.

Articles WILL be used

It has been brought to my attention that many Romulus citizens, service clubs and other organizations will not submit articles to the Roman because they are under the impression we will not use them.

I don't know what happened in the past that brought about this attitude among so many people and groups, but it simply is not true.

We welcome any and all news articles in addition to tips on features and other story possibilities.

The Romulus area and its people are important to us and we want to write about community happenings no matter how insignificant you may think they are.

It is important that this newspaper reestablish with the community a relationship that will open up the avenues of communication.

Let me repeat, articles submitted to the Roman will be used. If you have any doubts, just send them to me and I'll personally see they get in.

"Let's face it," he smiled. "Seafarer isn't a project any more. It's a religion."

His remark accurately reflected the emotions which have been raised in the debate over the issue.

What Cooper and his colleagues hope is that when all is said and done, they can come up with a clear, concise picture of the facts of the situation and make a solid recommendation to Gov. Milliken on whether Seafarer should be built in the Upper Peninsula. It's an approach the Navy says it is happy to live with.

"If a man asks you a good question, you owe him an answer," said John Stephens, a special assistant with the project. "We have no quarrel with that."

At the meeting Cooper bounced a number of questions off the Navy personnel ranging from why Seafarer couldn't be put at the bottom of Lake Superior rather than on land to a worry about the argument over whether Seafarer would make the U.P. a nuclear target.

"Probably the most difficult question we'll have to answer is the target question," he said.

Unfortunately that is more an emotional question than anything, since in the event of all out nuclear war the survivors of nuclear blasts would die soon of radiation fall out. But it is one that will have to be dealt with.

It could be a long, hot summer for the members of MERB.

School round-up changed

The kindergarten round-up in two Van Buren elementary schools has been rescheduled because of the closing of the schools March 1.

The Edgemont Elementary School round-up has been set for March 15 with persons whose names begin with the letters A-F reporting between 9 a.m. - 10 a.m. and those with names beginning with the letters G-L reporting between 10 a.m. - 11 p.m.

The Elwell Elementary School round-up also has been set for March 15 with persons whose names begin with the letters A-F scheduled to report from 9-10 a.m. and those with names beginning with the letters G-L scheduled to report between 10-11 a.m.

James Amerman (left) of Amerman Lumber Co. of Belleville has recently returned from a floor truss seminar, sponsored by the Heart Truss and Engineering Co. of Lansing. Amerman joined with Al Wheeler, regional technical director

On 80th birthday

Katherine Spring will be honored guest

MRS. JOSEPH SPRING

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

A well-known figure in the Belleville community and a name long familiar to Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman readers, Mrs. Joseph Spring will reach a special milestone when her odometer turns to 80 on April 2.

In honor of the occasion, an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. will be held March 27 at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville. Hosts for the celebration will be the honoree's two sons and their wives, John and Mildred Spring who will travel from North Bend, Ore. for the event, and Herbert and Beth Spring of Plymouth.

Also expected for their grandmother's party are Richard Spring and his wife, Susan, of North Bend, Ore. and Roger Spring and his wife, Debbie, of Livingston, Calif. Two granddaughters are also planning to be present: Julie Spring who currently is stationed with the U.S. Air Force at Lowrey Air Force Base in Denver, Colo., and Kay Spring, a sophomore at Plymouth Canton High School.

The family invites their mother's many friends and neighbors to attend and requests that there be no gifts, please.

Katherine Spring, who was born in the Schoolcraft-Plymouth Road area, has lived at the corner of Fourth and Liberty Streets in Belleville since she was 3-weeks old. One of four children left motherless, she attended the original Belleville School which stood where the A&P Store currently is located. The building was struck by lightning and burned to the ground in 1903 after which a new school — four whole rooms — was built on the same site and that's where Katherine graduated in 1914 — one of a class of five people; Orin McMullen of Belleville being the only other living member.

Teaching took up several of the graduate's years with one spent at the old Hall School on Eureka Road and five at French Landing. She was teaching there when the bridge crossing the Huron River was under construction. Although since condemned, the bridge still stands just south of the Edison Dam.

On Sept. 1, 1919, Katherine was married to Joseph Spring of Belleville. The couple had two sons who, in turn, presented them with their four grandchildren.

"By Mrs. Joseph Spring" (her by-line) has been a weekly addition to the Enterprise-Roman since she began writing as a "stringer" in February of 1949. She has since chalked up 27 years of columns first labeled "Belleville Brevities" and more recently "Community News." She took on the reporting task and has never missed submitting a column (her proxy taking over during vacations) in all her 27 years.

Associated Newspapers is proud and happy to extend its best wishes to Mrs. Spring on the occasion of her "octogenarian-hood" and for still contributing her paragraphs on local doings — be it Order of Eastern Star (OES) of which she has been secretary for 48 years, or tidbits on vacations, births, anniversaries, parties or news on who's ill in the area.

Happy birthday, not only from the owners and publishers but from her own little group in the Belleville office — Lee Smith, Diane Ferguson, Jim Carravallah and Bert Osterberg — with whom she is in touch weekly.

WMU Band to visit Belleville

The University Symphonic Band from the Department of Music at the Western Michigan University (WMU) will be appearing in concert in Belleville on March 22, as guests of the Belleville High School Bands. The concert, scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Belleville High School Auditorium, will be conducted by Carl Bjerregaard.

The 100-piece University Symphonic Band is one of three major instrumental ensembles in WMU's Department of Music. Students are selected from the student body at large, though the majority are music majors. Four former Belleville High School Band members, presently members of the University Symphonic Band, are Kathy Bassett, flute; T. Keith Green, French horn; Deana Halcomb, clarinet, and James Schweigert, trumpet.

Carl Bjerregaard, conductor of the University Symphonic Band, is Director of Bands at WMU. Before joining the University music faculty, he taught in the Montague and Muskegon public schools and served on the summer faculty at the Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp. Currently he also directs the Wind Ensembles at WMU's Summer Music Seminars for high school students.

For its performance at Belleville, the University Symphonic Band has programmed compositions including Al Fresco by Karel Husa, Children's March by Percy Grainger, John Philip Sousa's Glory of the Yankee Navy and Southern Tier Suite for Band by Walter Hartley.

Tickets for this March 22 concert are available by contacting the Belleville High School Music Department, 501 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville or at the box office on the night of the concert. All tickets are $1.

Pamela Elliott presents recital

A former Belleville Junior Miss, Pamela Elliott, presented her senior recital the evening of March 4 at Recital Hall on the campus of Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind. where she is enrolled in the School of Music.

Her program included the Sonata in C Minor, Op. 45 by Grieg; the Sonata in No. 2 in A Minor for Solo Violin by Bach and the Nocturne and Tarantella, Op. 28 by Szymanowski. David Evenson, a graduate student, accompanied Miss Elliott on the piano.

Miss Elliott, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elliott of Roscommon, recently of Belleville, will graduate in May with a bachelor of music degree in violin. The Elliotts and their two sons, Keith and Kevin, attended the recital and reception which followed.

Roxanne Harden is March bride of Harold D. Batway

Since their marriage March 13, the newly wed Harold D. Batways have taken up residence in the bride's apartment at 201 Henry St., Belleville. Roxanne Harden became Mrs. Batway in a 5:30 p.m. ceremony at the First United Methodist Church of Flat Rock where The Rev. R. D. Carter presided at the double ring rite.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harden of 2220 Scofield Rd.,

Carleton, the bride was escorted up the aisle by her father. For her wedding day she donned a toe-touching gown of sheer nylon styled with a Chantilly lace bodice and Victorian sleeves. The waistline featured an insert of lace above an A-line skirt edged with a double ruffle of lace which swept into a cathedral train as she walked.

A profile headpiece of matching lace secured her mantilla and blusher veils while cascading daisies, baby's breath and carnations completed her bridal finery.

Mrs. Greg Elmore of Inkster, sister of the bridegroom, served as honor attendant in a pale pink polyester gown fashioned in the A-line mode and complimented by a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

Wearing crepe polyester dresses with full skirts in green, blue, yellow and pink were the quartet of bridesmaids: Mrs. Richard Welsh of Flat Rock, Mary Batway and Barbara Batway of Carleton, all sisters of the bridegroom; and Kari Petit of Carleton, niece of the bride.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Batway of 12735 Mill St., Carleton, asked his brother, Dennis Batway of Carleton, to serve as best man. The corps of ushers, all cousins of the bridegroom, included Jerry Miller of Taylor; Ed Luebke of Belleville; Joe Saulsgiver of New Boston and David Batway of Taylor.

At the reception held in Sheraton Motor Inn of Woodhaven, the 65 guests were greeted by Mrs. Harden in a green polyester gown designed with a pleated skirt. Her corsage was comprised of sweetheart roses, carnations and baby's breath. The bridegroom's mother chose to wear a blue polyester jacket dress to which she pinned her corsage of carnations and baby's breath.

Both young people are Airport High School graduates. The bridegroom graduated in 1974 from Eastern Michigan University with a bachelor of science degree. He is a member of the U.S. Naval Reserve at Mt. Clemens and the Carleton Athletic Club and is employed at Hydra-Matic at Willow Run.

Scouts live up to theme

Since the theme of Girl Scout Week this year was "Thank You, Neighbors," the girls of Troop No. 743 and their co-leaders Pat Stewart and Bettie Doss, would like to thank all their neighbors for supporting the troop by purchasing both the Girl Scout calendars and cookies.

The troop would also like to give a special thank you to the Romulus Roman for publishing its news and activities among which was a recent ice skating party at the Southgate Civic Center.

The troop also played host to its sister Brownie Troop No. 174. The Junior girls held a candlelight ceremony in honor of Girl Scout Week after which games were played and a skit entitled "Juliette Lowe's Birthday" was performed by the Junior troop. Resident attends DAV confab in D.C.

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Marvin Meerse of W. Columbia Avenue was in attendance at the Mid-winter Conference of Disabled American Veterans (DAV) held in Washington, D.C., February 29 through March 4. While there he appeared before the House and Senate Committees on Veteran Affairs, attended the dedication of the new headquarters building for D.A.V. and had the pleasure of shaking hands with President Ford who was the speaker.

He reports that both the senators and representatives were amazed at the huge attendance of disabled veterans who turned out for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Zuroff of Savage Road returned home last week after having spent three weeks at Atlanta, Ga. with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton. While there they had the pleasure of getting acquainted with their new grandson, Eric Morgan Clayton, who was born Feb. 2, weight 7 lbs.

Callers Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. W. Ross of Liberty Street were former Liberty Street residents, Mrs. Paul J. Clark and her son John Robert and his wife from Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haft of Church Street were recent week-end guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones and family of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Watts of Ypsilanti Township moved this past week to E. Huron River Drive into the home which they recently purchased from Mrs. Leo Gloyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Harmony Lane with little granddaughter, Laura, and their son, Lanny, of Mt. Pleasant, spent last week-end with their son, Larry, at Paradise. While there they drove to Tahquamenon Falls and to Hulbert to see the deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton of Bedell Street were Sunday dinner guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Muncie and family of Detroit. The occasion was in celebration of their grandson, Bradley's eighth birthday.

Recent callers at the home of Mr.

and Mrs. Norman Miller of Second Street were the former's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller of Colon.

Callers Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Raymond Sr. of Wabash Street were the former's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Raymond of South Lyon, and their daughter, Helen Oliver of Milford.

Mr. and Mrs. George Maki of Quirk Road were called to Iron Mountain last week to attend funeral services for Mrs. Maki's brother, Dale Domenget, on March 9. He was buried the day before his 51st birthday. Enroute home they stopped in Chicago where they called on a brother-in-law, Robert Rundblom, who is seriously ill in Billings Hospital.

Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Miller of Second Street were their daughter, Aileen Mengel of Ann Arbor, and Norman's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Fleishans of Dearborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Mann of Wayne were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton of Bedell Street.

Jacqueline's newest Burm

Their first child, a daughter, was born March 2 to Gilbert and Linda Burm of Livonia. The 5 lb. - 7 oz. infant, who was named Jacqueline Elaine arrived at Sinai Hospital in Detroit.

Mrs. Peter Burm of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dominiak of Oscoda are the baby's grandparents.

Dorothy Kellas March hostess to Past Matrons

Past Matron Dorothy Kellas was hostess for the monthly meeting of the Past Matrons' Association of Belleville Chapter No. 73, O.E.S., which was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Kidwell on Elen Drive on March 4.

Present for the usual 12:30 luncheon were 12 members and two guests, the Worthy Matron Lenore Gaddy, and Annie Kidwell. The tables were decorated with St. Patrick theme table cloths and napkins with small clay pipes as favors.

The hostess presented a paper and pencil game with awards going to Katherine Spring and Lenore Gaddy after which the afternoon was spent visiting.

MR. AND MRS. DALE A. FRISCH

Newly wed Frischs honeymoon in Florida

The newly wed Dale Anthony Frischs are making their home at 24 Church St., Belleville, since their arrival home from a 2-weeks honeymoon in Florida.

Cynthia Kay Allmon selected a gown of antique satin and lace for her Feb. 14 wedding day. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Allmon of 40378 Alden Dr., Belleville, she was given in marriage by her father.

The little fitted bodice of her dress was styled with a stand-up scalloped collar outlined with seed pearling. Her long lace sleeves terminated in wide ruffles and her A-line skirt cascaded into a cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to an antique white lace tiara enhanced with seed pearls with a cascade bouquet of baby white carnations and baby's breath completing her bridal ensemble.

The 7 p.m. ceremony at Metro Baptist Temple of Belleville was conducted by The Rev. John Vaprepsan before some 275 assembled guests.

Music was played by Mrs. James Southward of Belleville who accompanied her husband and Renia Wright, the two soloists.

The bride's only sister, Lori Allmon, was chosen to be maid of honor. She appeared in a cranberry crepe gown with a bodice in antique white lace. Sprigs of baby's breath were tucked into her hair and she carried a single pink carnation accented with baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Kim Shoebridge of Melvindale; Jill Southward and Becky Thomas of Belleville; Tomi Sue Anderson and Kelly Anderson of Ypsilanti, and Charlene Frisch of Belleville, the bridegroom's sister. Their dresses were identical to the honor maid's; their flowers differing in that they were white.

Four-year old Crissy Southward, wearing a miniature version of the senior attendants' frocks, carried a basket filled with rose petals as she performed as flowergirl. Scott Allmon, seven, carried out the role of ringbearer.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Frisch of 351 Edison Ave., Belleville, the bridegroom was assisted by his brother, Pete Frisch of Belleville, as best man. Ushers were Steve Allmon; Carey, Alan, Brian and Paul Frisch, all brothers of the bridal pair, and Mike Thompson of Belleville.

At the reception which followed the bride's mother greeted guests in a gown designed with a pink chiffon skirt and burgundy velvet bodice. The bridegroom's mother donned a mint green crepe gown with a companion lace jacket. Both were presented with corsages of red roses and baby's breath.

The new Mrs. Frisch graduated from Belleville High School in January and currently is employed as a secretary at Metro Baptist Temple. Her husband, a 1973 alumnus of Belleville High School, is manager of Burgo's in Belleville.

The rehearsal dinner was also a surprise birthday party for the bride-to-be given by Mrs. Linda Vaprepsan at her home.

Close to 200 dance fans were on hand March 6 for the Fourth Annual Kiwanis President's Ball. The dinner-dance was followed by a cocktail hour in the Father Folta Building where decorations followed a Bicentennial theme. Among those keeping in step to the music of The Family Band were (from left) Bill Hudge and his partner and Paul Druker and his wife, Suzie.

At President's Ball

One of the Belleville Kiwanis Club's most active couples is Dave and Evelyn Larabell who, again, had a big hand in making the Fourth Annual Kiwanis President's Ball a success. Dave handled the ticket detail while Ev was among the wives who saw to decorations and table arrangements. President Bill Matthews and his wife, Sharon, chaired the traditional dinner-dance.

SJHS students plan park fund-raiser event

The Understanding Committee of Belleville South Junior High School is organizing a fund raising event for the Belleville Bicentennial Park. A week long project has been planned and some of the activities include a 1776 Dress Up Day, in which the whole manner of school will be similar to that of 1776 in the style of dress, cafeteria food and the way in which classes are taught.

Also, a 1776 Dress Up Day has been planned which will give students a chance to dress in the style of today. Two more activities included in the week are a treasure hunt in which the prize will be a $25 savings bond and a big activity night which will include dancing, basketball, volleyball, ping pong, pizza and pop.

The Understanding Committee is a group of seven black and seven white junior high school students. They work together to help solve student problems and to set an example to show that all races can work and communicate together.

The committee hopes to raise $500 so that they may accomplish their goal — the acquisition of all park benches.

The students of the Understanding Committee are Julie Sears, Phillip Martin, Tim Bradley, Mark Page, Doug Sheldon, Angela Brown, Kathy Smith, Kim Brown, Steve Justice, Brian Brice, Mark Speights, Balinda Stafford and Loretta McMillon.

They would like to thank the following people for making the fund raising possible: Understanding Committee advisor, Richard Kiessel, principal Don F. White; assistant principal John Forsyth; manager of Richardson's Pharmacy, Kerry Manseau and the Vernor and 7-Up distributors.

MUSICAL NOTES

by Doug Brown

Not only the angels play harps. Much chamber music has been written for small instrumental groups including the harp, and it is today an important component of all symphony orchestras. It is nice to know that history does contribute something, however: the harp is among the oldest of musical instruments, and they were in use in Mesopotamia at least as early as 3000 B.C. The harp of medieval Europe came from Ireland. The harp can play any note or combination of notes on the diatonic scale, and while it has not caught on in rock groups, it is an essential instrument today. Not to mention hereafter.

A wide selection of beautifully toned instruments will be found at DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus. Complete selection of fine pianos, organs, guitars and band instruments to choose from. Open daily from 10 to 8:30 p.m. and Sat. from 9:30 to 6 p.m. We honor Master Charge and Bank Americard. Black heritage

Youngsters at the Romulus Elementary School were treated to a special historical display for the recent Brotherhood Week when teacher Juanita Singleton put up her personal collection on black history. Students Gwen Marks, 11, (from left) Helen Thomas, 10, and Jeff Brown, 12, examine some of the memorabilia collected by Mrs. Singleton during her more than 10 years of teaching in Romulus. The Romulus Elementary School PTA had viewed the display as a special activity following a PTA meeting. — ANP photo.

BHS senior named to net scholarship

A senior at Belleville High School has been selected to receive a 1976-77 scholarship from Adrian College, located in Adrian, Mich.

Spring Arthur netted the honor, based on her academic excellence, college officials said.

Miss Arthur, scheduled to enter Adrian in September to study sociology and anthropology, was granted the scholarship on the basis of her outstanding grade record in high school college preparatory courses. It is a 1-year scholarship, renewable if academic performance is maintained.

Miss Arthur is the daughter of Joy Eldon and Dorothy Arthur of 455 High, Belleville. At the high school, she is an honor student active in Student Senate, Spanish and swim clubs. Miss Arthur also is a member of the Belleville First United Methodist Church and an officer of the youth group there.

Adrian College is a fully accredited, 4-year liberal arts school related to the United Methodist Church. Located in southeastern Michigan, Adrian has an enrollment of about 1,000 students and offers undergraduate and graduate programs.

Three win competition

Three Huron Junior High School students have earned the school's first, second- and third-place awards for their entries in the seventh annual Freedoms Foundation America and Me essay contest, sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group.

The three top essayists, who will receive honor certificates for their achievement, are Dolores Drouillard, first; Nancy Cameron, second, and Sheri Black, third.

A plaque engraved with the name of the school's first-place winner also will be presented to the school.

Nearly 6,000 eighth grade students from 318 Michigan schools submitted entries in this year's contest, which is conducted with the help of Farm Bureau Insurance agents across the state.

As the school's first-place winner, Dolores's essay has been entered into the statewide competition from which 10 state winners will be selected. Prizes for the top 10 in the state include a $500 savings bond, $250 in savings bonds for second place, $100 bonds for third, fourth and fifth place, and $50 bond for each of the remaining essayists in the top 10.

In addition to the prizes for the students, the schools of the top three essayists in the state will receive a large U.S. flag for display.

preparation for life outside of school.

Seventh and eighth grade students in both the North and South junior high schools in Van Buren School District are crossing their traditional "sex roles" to study the "practical arts" along with academics.

For instance, boys who never may have had the chance in the past are taking part in a mixed home economics program which offers them four weeks of instruction in sewing, four weeks in the study of food and one-week in child care and understanding.

Likewise, girls are taking part in similarly mixed classes to study industrial arts so once they leave school they are able to tell which is the business end of a hammer or screw driver.

School officials say the courses are designed to make the students a little more self sufficient during the years after they leave home.

Key to the program, according to instructors, is the study of food, where all students are introduced to the concept of good nutritional planning of menus and food preparation.

While some area residents may not understand the full impact of the courses on the youngsters' education, any parent who has had a son or daughter move out of the home, only to return home each weekend for a "good meal" and to have the wash done knows the importance of the concept, school officials said.

Archaeology museum: Take a 'journey back' 5,000 years

Belleville-Romulus residents looking for an interesting way to spend an afternoon close to home may find what they are looking for behind the tranquil facade of the University of Michigan's (U-M) Kelsey Museum of Ancient and Medieval Archaeology.

The museum, located at 434 S. State St. on the college's Ann Arbor campus, mainly is voted to teaching, research and conservation and houses a variety of artifacts dating back to the early Egyptian period 5,000 years ago.

Around 90,000 objects of which 40,000 are coins, are in the museum. Many of the items came from excavations conducted by the university in the 1920s and 1930 at Karanis, Egypt, and at Seleucia in Iraq, said John G. Pedley, director of the museum.

Other objects came to the museum by bequest, most notably the fine collection of Roman and Islamic glass belonging to former U-M President Alexander Ruthven. U-M Prof. Francis W. Kelsey in the 1920's large numbers of Latin inscriptions, building materials and objects of Roman daily life.

The exhibits, which are related to courses being given at the university, also are planned to have educational value for visitors.

"Every year thousands of visitors come to the museum. In 1972-73 there were 14,000 visitors; by 1974-75 the number has risen dramatically to 22,000," Pedley said. "We hope the building's bright new look and the fine visibility of the collections will bring people in increasing numbers."

Closed in June for extensive renovation, the museum opened this week. Tomorrow John H. Humphrey, assistant curator of the museum, will speak at 4 p.m. in Auditorium A, Angell Hall, on "Kelsey Museum Excavations at Carthage 1975." The lecture will be followed by an informal reception, open to the university community and the general public, in the museum. The museum will be open until 7 p.m.

The phased renovation was made possible by two $20,000 grants from the National Endowment for the Arts with matching funds from U-M.

"We also have received a 2-year grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities for cataloging the collections," Pedley said.

Constructed and furnished for $40,000, the Romanesque-style building was built in 1888-91 as headquarters for the U-M Students' Christian Association and later was used as a classroom building. In 1928 the building became the U-M Museum of Classical Archaeology, and in 1953 the name was changed to the Francis W. Kelsey Museum of Archaeology in honor of Prof. Kelsey, professor of Latin from 1889 to 1927, who instituted the collections and later the excavations in Karanis and Seleucia.

"The building had been designated a state historical monument under the protection of the State Historical Society," Pedley noted. "Permission to renovate was granted, if we made no outside structural changes."

"We had a pleasant surprise while the work was going on during the dismantling of a display in a niche in the Egyptian gallery on the first floor, a stained glass window was revealed. We had seen it from the outside, of course, but never from the inside." This niche has been turned into a small reading alcove with books related to the exhibits.

The Kelsey Museum is especially rich in Egyptian and Roman objects. One of the two major galleries on the main floor is devoted to Egyptian materials, ranging in chronology from the pre-dynastic period through the Ptolemaic period. The other major gallery will show Roman materials.

"When you enter the museum, you are greeted by a prominent case displaying a sculptured Roman head of Dionysus, purchased two years ago in collaboration with the U-M Museum of Art. This will signal that one of the major strengths of the collection is our Roman objects," Pedley said.

"When you look beyond that focal point, down the length of the corridor, you will see another visual accent — a tall, vertical case holding the painted lid of a mummy case, indicating that the museum's other major strength is its Egyptian materials," he added.

Pedley said the Roman gallery has materials from the university's excavation at the Roman provincial town of Karanis in Egypt in the 1920s and 1930s. The gallery also contains objects acquired by purchase by Prof. Kelsey in the 1920s and some from the beginning of the century.

Being shown for the first time are a number of objects on loan from the Tunisian government as a result of the university's excavation in Carthage last year. On display will be women's toilet articles, coins and bronzes.

"Kelsey excavated there in 1925 and we resumed 50 years later," Pedley pointed out. Other new acquisitions to be shown will be a portrait head of the Roman Emperor Augustus and two other Roman portraits.

The circular gallery to the right of the front door is displaying Roman and Islamic bone and wood inlays and coins, and the rectangular gallery leading into it, Roman glass — another of the strengths of the collections. In the corridor, Coptic and Islamic textiles are shown.

The back gallery will function as a classroom during the academic year and as an exhibition gallery in the summer. For the opening and the remainder of the academic year, Greek, Etruscan and Roman vases will be displayed here.

Our casual, comfortable Ten Eyck Room offers you a delightful alternative to our nationally famous Early American Room.

We have a new "family menu" in the Ten Eyck. If your tastes tend toward the simpler dishes, you'll find them here — at family prices. Of unpaved thoroughfares

Smith blasts 'deplorable' road conditions

Concerned with the "deplorable" condition of unpaved roads in Western Wayne County, Royce E. Smith, county commissioner from Belleville, has sponsored a resolution calling for more state and federal money to resurface those roads.

The resolution was approved unanimously by the Board of Commissioners March 4.

"Unimproved roads in my district (27) are shamefully neglected. Many are carrying five times the amount of traffic they did 10, 20, or 30 years ago, yet no improvements have been made," Smith said. "It is impossible to maintain these gravel roads with the amount of traffic they now carry. Paving is the only solution. Money has to be provided to the (Wayne) County Road Commission (WCR) in order to handle this problem."

"The WCR has done a commendable job with the money they had to work with, but since last year's revenue is down $1.5 million and costs are up more than 10 percent, we face further neglect of our unimproved roads unless substantial new funding is obtained."

In a letter to Loren Cox, chief counsel of the House Ways and Means Committee in Washington, Smith said revenue from the Motor Vehicle Fund amounts to only one-third of what is necessary to maintain and improve county roads.

"The only realistic means of providing increased outside funding is through an expanded federally-aided road construction program on county and city roads and streets," he added.

"These roads are a disgrace. Recently they have been an impassable quagmire. We have had as many as seven cars stuck in mud up to their headlights in one place," Smith said. "Only by the grace of God has there not been a fire or serious illness that might require an ambulance or fire equipment that couldn't get through. It would be a catastrophe. "People living on these roads can't get out unless they put on rubber boots and trudge through mud to a paved access road where they park their cars."

"People who haven't seen this situation cannot appreciate the conditions that many citizens have to put up with. After all, our residents pay their taxes just like everyone else. They are entitled to get in and out of their homes."

"The 27th District is the fastest growing area in Wayne County and it has the largest percentage of unimproved roads. I have been flooded with telephone calls and my desk is piled high with letters from citizens who are outraged by the condition of their roads."

"This, along with my own personal knowledge of their deplorable condition has prompted me to draft this resolution that will be sent to the county delegation, Smith asked that a larger share of the gas tax revenue, now set at nine cents a gallon state, and four cents a gallon federal, be directed to improving county roads.

Smith further called for redistribution of federal highway monies to provide a larger share for county road improvement and maintenance. Last year, Michigan received more than $30 million from the federal government in highway funds, with only 3 to 4 percent going to the counties. The bulk of this money went for state trunk line highways.

He also asked that House Bill 8235 which passed the United State House of Representatives and now is in a Senate Conference Committee, be amended to direct a larger percentage of its $8.9 billion proposed highway money be used for the construction and maintenance of local county roads.

"What has happened to the roads this spring must not be permitted to happen again. Something must be done, and I will use all my power, exploit every contact to see that we get some paving done this summer," Smith said. "Although I am speaking principally for District 27, I realize road improvement is needed badly throughout all of Western Wayne County."

Smith's district encompasses Belleville, Wayne, Plymouth, part of Westland, and the township's of Belleville, Van Buren, Canton, Plymouth and part of Northville.

Huron district set for GED testing

Area residents who may not have completed all high school requirements for a diploma, can receive the equivalent through a Graduate Equivalency Degree test to be offered by the Huron School District.

Offered through the district's continuing education program, the test gives men and women who have left school the opportunity to receive a certificate which shows they have the skills necessary to obtain the diploma.

Information on the program, and on classes which offer credits toward a diploma can be obtained by calling either Roger Benner at 782-2441 or Chris Fields at 782-1505.

Plans call for offering the GED test April 12, 13 and 14 between the hours of 6 and 10 p.m.

Tests are free for individuals enrolled in the continuing education program. However, the cost of a test for a student not enrolled in the program is $15.

CUFA sponsors 3rd annual dinner

The Board of Directors of Communities United for Action (CUFA) has extended an invitation to all residents of Romulus and Sumpter Township to be its guests at the annual CUFA dinner. The dinner is held at this time each year to bring together and recognize all sectors of the eight communities that organization serves.

The third annual dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. March 26 at the Romulus Ramada Inn. The inn is located at 8270 Wickham Road, just off I-94 at the Merriman Road exit, directly across from Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The social hour begins at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m. A live band will be present for dancing and entertainment from 9:30 to 12 a.m. The donation is $10 per person.

Donald E. Wrench, executive director, said: "CUFA always has recognized and encouraged community participation in the anti-poverty programs that the agency has initiated in its eight communities. We also acknowledge the importance of inviting that same participation in the social affairs of this agency."

Van Buren Bicentennial panel says 'thanks'

The directors of the Van Buren Township Bicentennial Committee have issued a public "thanks" for the efforts of the students from Belleville High School who helped make a joint Bicentennial project—Elias Brothers Big Boy Restaurant grand opening art display a success.

Bicentennial Committee co-chairmen Patricia Cullin and Marilyn Montgomery said in a joint release: "This note is to thank you for your participation in this Van Buren Township Bicentennial Project.

"Mrs. Stripp, manager of the Big Boy, said the patrons of the restaurant totally appreciated the art and awarded certificates to those who were selected as the 'most favorite' art works."

Included in the list of winners were Tina Sliva's work entitled "Ship", Dan Smith's work entitled "Leather" and Tom Russell's work entitled "Pencil Drawing."

The co-chairmen said the Bicentennial Committee is preparing a special certificate of appreciation of the students' participation and also will give each a set of Bicentennial coins.

The certificates now are at the printers and will be forwarded to the students, according to the co-chairmen.

Students who participated in the art display are being invited to prepare works for an art fair, scheduled for the summer for both the display and sale of art works.

"We found that most of the items displayed at the Big Boy would have been sold immediately, if people could have bought them on the spot, wrote the co-chairmen.

Your Questions Will Be Answered Here

This is the first in a series of what we hope will be helpful messages to our area friends. We're going to be "talking it out" with you on many situations which you face in your daily associations with family and friends. Especially, we'll be talking on various aspects of death and bereavement... coping with loss of loved ones... how do you explain death to a child... proper behaviors towards the bereaved and something of what you say to them... setting up one's life anew... the importance of pre-planning one's funeral arrangements.

Your questions invited. Send us your questions, especially those of you from the religious leaders of our city. They are so deeply involved with our life and death process. There are really only four great moments in our personal life span process. All four moments are affected deeply by the force of religion.

First moment is your own birth, attended by prayers, baptism or christening by pastor, priest or rabbi. Then there's your marriage ceremony, performed with church rituals and blessings. Next usually comes the delightful moments when your own children are born, again ceremonialized by your clergyman. Finally comes death with its prayers for the deceased, and, most importantly, for the living who must carry on.

Your questions and comments on these subjects and others are most welcome—in private or publicly through this column.

On behalf of consumers

County joins fight against utility rate hikes

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has joined in the battle against skyrocketing utility rates, deciding to challenge rate increase requests on behalf of consumers.

A resolution to that effect was adopted unanimously at the March 4 board meeting.

The resolution instructs the board's attorneys to prepare to intervene in utility rate requests that come before the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC) and the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

In addition, the resolution urges the MPSC to reconsider its recently-adopted policy of allowing the public utilities to pass on to their customers their fuel cost increases without applying to the MPSC.

The commissioners noted that public utility rates "in some instances have increased to almost double the amounts of approximately one year ago," since the automatic fuel cost pass-on went into effect.

In the resolution, the county commissioners instructed the Corporation Counsel to advise them of all utility rate increase applications "so that this legislative body may instruct the corporation counsel to intervene in specific cases."

"We do not want to see any public utility deprived of its legitimate needs," said Commissioner John Trellay of Trenton, adding: "But any genuine need can stand up under additional scrutiny from the county level. The public is up in arms over rate increases and needs some extra assurance that any increases have been scrutinized thoroughly."

Trellay said a total of 800 Downriver residents attended two utility rate protest meetings in Gibraltar in recent weeks.

Commissioner Rose Mary Robinson of Detroit said many households have seen their heating bills nearly double since the MPSC adopted its policy regarding the automatic passing-on of higher fuel purchase costs by the utilities about a year ago.

"This policy certainly demands re-evaluation in the light of experience. Public confidence has been shaken badly," Mrs. Robinson added.

Unlike today's version of the game, where winning money is the object, the old bingos offered such prizes as kisses from pretty women, food and luncheons and money at times.

The Wayne version of the game includes 34 games for cash prizes.

WHEREAS: The Detroit Metropolitan Water Board on December 15, 1975 by a four to three vote of its members determined to raise water rates 39 percent to be effective May 1, 1976; and

WHEREAS: the said proposed increase in water rates appears to have no reasonable relationship to costs incurred for supplying said water and may, therefore, be unjust and inequitable; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus takes this means to indicate its support in opposition to the proposed water rate increase; further, in the event it becomes necessary to litigate the issues involved, the City Council does hereby pledge that at such time it will appropriate a sum in the amount of five cents (5c) per capita as this City's share of the cost of such litigation.

WHEREAS: The United States Supreme Court has issued an injunction prohibiting the United States Postal Service from discontinuing any branch which is vital to the communication needs of any community and that is operating in the black; and

City of Romulus

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT REHABILITATION PROJECT

1. OBJECTIVE

The objective of this project is to assist owner-occupants of single family residents in making their dwellings safe, sanitary, and habitable in conformance with the MINIMUM HOUSING STANDARDS of City of Romulus by providing home improvement grants and loan-subsidies.

2. ASSISTANCE LIMITS

The total grant and/or loan subsidy assistance provided per owner-occupant shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1000).

Loans must be obtained from private lending institutions. Each loan shall be at an interest rate which does not exceed twelve percent (12 percent) per annum, and for a term, which does not exceed seven (7) years. City of Romulus will subsidize each loan to reduce the interest rate to three percent (3 percent) per annum. The maximum loan so subsidized shall not exceed two-thousand five-hundred dollars ($2500).

3. APPLICANT ELIGIBILITY & SELECTION CRITERIA

Every owner-occupant of a single-family residence in City of Romulus is eligible to apply except employees of City of Romulus or members of their immediate families. However, only those applicants who best satisfy Federal and City selection criteria will be awarded assistance, and those who get loan-subsidies must satisfy lending institution criteria as well.

In general, City of Romulus will award assistance according to a system which gives highest priority to those who:

- have low or moderate income ($10,000 per year or less).
- are elderly (head-of-household or spouse age 60 or over).
- are handicapped.
- reside in an area deemed most in need of rehabilitation.
- need help in meeting MINIMUM HOUSING STANDARDS.

The selection system is described in Appendix A.

There are no income limitations for loan-subsidy applicants, but preference will be given to those with low or moderate income. To be eligible for a grant, however, household income.

For the purposes of this section, "immediate family" means wife, husband, son, daughter, mother, father, brother, and sister.

For the purposes of this section, "handicapped" means a medically recognized physical, mental, or emotional impairment, or a chronic condition which limits work activities, cannot exceed Federally specified poverty income levels. Appendix B gives the levels currently in force, together with the method by which comparable household income levels will be computed.

4. ALLOCATION OF FUNDS

To ensure that the opportunity exists for both grant and loan subsidy assistance, separate funds will be established for each. Using the latest decennial census, the fraction of available funds which is allocated for grants shall equal the ratio of the number of families with incomes at or below poverty levels to the number of families with low or moderate income (i.e., with income less than or equal to 80 percent of the median income for the City). The remainder of the available funds shall be allocated for loan-subsidies.

5. FINANCIAL ARRANGEMENTS.

5.1. Loan Subsidies

All loans and loan subsidies are subject to the assistance limits set forth in Section 2. These limits are compatible with a HUD-FHA Title I insured home improvement loan, or its conventional equivalent. Although there is no prohibition against obtaining a conventional loan, City of Romulus requires that the lending institution be insured against any loss due to default, and that the cost of such insurance be borne separately by the borrowers.

The prospective rehabilitation loan schedule for all subsidized loans is given in Figure 1. Any increases above the payments shown, due to origination fees, delays in making the first payment, and the like, shall be borne by the borrower.

In the event that a refinancing is necessary, the liability of City of Romulus shall be limited to the total loan subsidy awarded in the initial loan agreement.

5.2. Grants

All grants are subject to the assistance limits set forth in Section 2.

Although all applicants with poverty level household incomes are eligible for a grant, none are compelled to accept a grant instead of a loan-subsidy. Indeed, to stretch its funds as far as possible, City of Romulus encourages the use of loan-subsidies, or loan-subsidy-grant combinations, instead of just grants.

For the 1st Program Year, $47,250 is available for assistance. Under the above formula, $7,250 is allocated for grants, and $40,000 for loan-subsidies. (An additional $5,250 has been budgeted for project administration.)

In the event of default, City of Romulus, will recover the unexpended portion of any loan subsidy advanced to the lending institution.

Term (Years)	Monthly Payment per $1000			Total Payment per $1000			Loan Dollars per City Dollar	Effective Matching Requirement*
	Normal Rate (12%)	Subsidized Rate (12%)	Monthly Savings*	Normal Rate (12%)	Subsidized Rate (12%)	Total Savings*
1	89.85	84.69	4.16	1066.20	1016.28	49.92	20.03	24.591
2	47.08	42.98	4.10	1129.92	1031.52	98.40	10.16	24.264
3	33.22	29.08	4.14	1195.92	1046.88	149.04	6.71	23.934

5	22.25	17.97	4.28	1335.00	1078.20	256.80	3.89	23.344
6	19.56	15.19	4.37	1408.32	1093.68	314.64	3.18	22.914
7	17.66	13.21	4.45	1483.44	1109.64	373.80	2.68	22.684

* City contribution.

* Effective matching requirement equals percentage of total interest payment which is borne by the borrower.

To this end, City of Romulus requires that each grantee make a small matching contribution. This contribution shall be five (5 percent) of the City grant times the ratio of the actual household income to the threshold poverty income level for a household with the same number of members. (The maximum allowable grant, $1000, would thus require a maximum matching contribution of $50. This would decrease as income decreased.) For the elderly or handicapped, this requirement is waived.

5.3 Right of Recovery

For a period of three years after grant or loan-subsidy assistance is provided, City of Romulus shall have the right to recover the full amount of such assistance if the property to which it was applied changes ownership. This right shall be secured by a conditional lien on the property.

6. ELIGIBLE IMPROVEMENTS

- basic equipment and facilities (kitchen sink, lavatory, laundry, water heater).

The following items are considered inappropriate for assistance under this project, regardless of whether they are included in the MINIMUM HOUSING STANDARDS:

- a) Provision of rubbish and garbage storage containers.
- b) New construction, or the expansion of the size of a structure.
- c) The completion of unfinished spaces such as an attic or basement unless necessary because of overcrowding.
- d) Materials, fixtures, or equipment of a type or quality which exceeds that customarily used in that particular portion of the City for properties of the same general type as the property to be rehabilitated.
- e) Appliances not required by applicable City codes and ordinances.

7. APPROVED CONTRACTORS

City of Romulus will maintain a list of approved contractors to make all necessary repairs. Contractor approval is based upon: HUD approval (lack of disapproval), verification of license and insurance, contact with the Michigan Department of State Licensing and the Better Business Bureau, and past experience. Any contractor who fails to comply with City guidelines will be removed from the list.

8. SUBSTANDARD DWELLINGS (CONDEMNATION)

Within each point total category, applicants will be selected by lottery. That is, first priority will be given to the applicant whose name is drawn first, second priority to the applicant whose name is drawn second, and so on, until all applicants in the category are given a ranking. Actual award of assistance will then be contingent on the availability of funds, and for loan subsidies, on the applicants ability to satisfy lending institution criteria.

APPENDIX B GRANT ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Current poverty income levels are given in Figure B1. The following definitions and procedures are used in determining a comparable annual household income.

1. Number in Household. The total number of persons living in the applicant's household who are related to the applicant by blood, marriage, or adoption. A stepchild or foster child who receives at least 50 percent of his/her support from the step-parent or foster parents shall be counted as a member of the stepparent's or foster parent's family. An unmarried member of a household: (1) who is 18 or older, and (2) who receives less than 50 percent of his/her maintenance from the family, shall not be considered to be a member of the family. Such an individual shall be considered as a family residing alone or in group quarters.
2. Annual Household Income. Poverty level income is the maximum annual income level for a household of a given size which can be received and the family be considered to be economically disadvantaged. The income level varies by farm or nonfarm source as well as by size of household. Record the sum of all money received by the applicant or the family from all sources, except for specific exclusions indicated below, for the previous 12 months. Include the sum of amounts reported separately for wage or salary income, self employment income, and other income as described under Inclusions.

- a. Inclusions in Family Income:
 - (1) Gross Wages or Salary. The total money earnings received for work performed as an employee. It represents the amount paid before deductions for income taxes, social security taxes, bond purchases, union dues, etc. Wages and salary received as a participant of EEA or CETA PSE or OJT are included in the computation of income. All other manpower payments (e.g., under work experience, classroom training, services, etc.) will be excluded.
 - (2) Self Employment Income. Net money income (gross receipts minus operating expenses) from a business firm, farm, or other enterprise in which a person is engaged on his/her own account.
 - (3) Other Income. Money received from such sources as net rents, social security benefits (OASI and Federal Disability Insurance), pensions, and periodic income from insurance policy annuities.
- These definitions and procedures are essentially the same as are currently employed by U.S. Department of Labor under its Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) programs.

RESOLUTION 76-242

WHEREAS, the City of Romulus has dedicated itself to providing a living environment for every resident within this City, which would create in that citizen a sincere and real pride for the community in which he lives; and WHEREAS, this pride can only be cultivated by the improvement of the physical qualities of life we encounter daily; and WHEREAS, the advent of spring inspires most citizens to engage in the cleaning, fixing and sprucing up of their individual homes and properties. NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Romulus City Council does hereby designate the months of April and May as official clean up months for the City of Romulus. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the designation of the aforementioned months has the specific significance of setting forth a specified period from which we hope to launch a new dedication and appreciation for the community in which we live and, subsequently have themed the 1976 clean up period "Building Pride in Romulus." BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED that this new dedication and appreciation is founded in the heartiness, the vitality and unity of the citizens of the City of Romulus. RESOLUTION 76-243

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus is geographically structured to accommodate the fifth largest air transportation facility in the United States (Wayne County Metropolitan Airport), and WHEREAS: The Federal Aviation Association's regulations impose mandatory restrictions on land areas surrounding such a facility with the ultimate effect of the elimination of residential development, and WHEREAS: The Wayne County Metropolitan Airport services a regional clientele indirectly causing the City of Romulus to be a regional benefactor, and WHEREAS: Airport facilities require various commercial enterprises to accommodate the demand of clientele utilizing such a facility in its immediate proximity, and WHEREAS: The priority requirement for commercial enterprises serving airport needs is the ability to serve alcoholic beverages, and WHEREAS: Existing statutes covering distribution of licenses to dispense alcoholic beverages is, in fact, discriminatory when its provisions are applied to the City of Romulus in that the City of Romulus is required to provide a service to the region, a service that by its regulations limit the residential population the City of Romulus is able to develop, and WHEREAS: Representative Bullard has introduced a bill (HB 5762) which would provide that tavern licenses may be granted to retail food establishments selling meals for consumers on the premises without regard to population limitations presently contained in the Liquor Control Act, and WHEREAS: This is a step in providing the City of Romulus an equal and equitable ability to realize its development potential and provide the required services to its citizens.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Romulus that it does herewith set forth its support for House Bill 5762. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the City of Romulus does further set forth its concern that local government be provided approval authority prior to the Liquor Control Commission's approval of applications hereunder. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Block, McAnally, Lee, Oakley, Martin. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.

76-244

11.B.1. Motion by Oakley, supported by McAnally, to adopt Resolution 76-244 (Requesting legislation to cancel the presidential preferential primary)

RESOLUTION 76-244

WHEREAS: Act No. 60 of the Public Acts of 1972 provides that there shall be a Presidential Primary Election in this state to be held on the third Tuesday of May in each presidential election year, and WHEREAS: The holding of a presidential primary election has demonstrated little to no benefit to the citizens at large, the presidential candidates themselves, nor have they demonstrated a viable political benefit to State Central Committees, Republican or Democratic, and WHEREAS: The citizens of the State of Michigan have demonstrated the willingness to support any and all electoral processes which demonstrate the ability to deliver viable, definable results which can be turned into the enrichment of the individual electors access to the democratic process and, specifically, real ability to affect eventual selection of presidential candidates, and WHEREAS: The citizens of the State of Michigan enthusiastically embraced the presidential primary concept in 1972 under the delusion that it would in fact deliver an ability to affect the eventual presidential candidate and overwhelmingly identify its selection for a presidential candidate, and WHEREAS: The choice of the State of Michigan had only the effect of frustrating the sequence of events which were to eventually take place in the national conventions and, subsequently, the State of Michigan was to expend an estimated $3,000,000 to purchase this frustration, and WHEREAS: The appropriation for this expenditure was provided by the State who, by its Act of 185 of 1973 recognized the folly of Act 60 and very astutely passed the mockery on to local government, and WHEREAS: The administrators, legislators and most significantly the citizens of the City of Romulus are appalled by the flagrant disregard of the citizens of this state and the inexcusable lack of responsibility demonstrated by Act 185, and WHEREAS: The citizens of the City of Romulus are financially ill-equipped to bear the burden imposed by the expenditure for the conduct of a presidential primary election, most especially, since said election provides most viable, definable results.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of the City of Romulus that the entire electoral process be revised so that, if the wisdom of State Legislators leads them to continue the presidential primary election, said continuance will deliver to the citizens of the State of Michigan and, more specifically, the citizens of the City of Romulus a vote that is definable in its end result and provides real selection ability for the presidential candidate of its choice.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: that should the wisdom of State Legislators lead them to continue the presidential primary, that said legislators provide necessary funding for the conduct of said election. He who legislates responsibility must defray financial obligation created by that responsibility.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the attention of Governor William Milliken, State Senator William Faust, Representative Edward Mahalak, Representative Gary Owen, and all surrounding communities in Wayne County. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Raspberry, Oakley, McAnally, Lee, Block, Martin. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.

76-245

Special program to update horse vaccination

Horse owners will receive an update on vaccinations, swamp fever and internal parasites at the annual Horse Day during Michigan State University's (MSU) Farmers' Week Monday through March 26.

The horse session will be in Kellogg Center Auditorium next Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Related educational exhibits will be in the MSU Livestock Pavilion Tuesday, next Wednesday and next Thursday.

"Horse ownership in Michigan has increased dramatically during the past decade and so is the need for our emphasis on health care and other horse management programs," said

Dr. Richard Dunn, MSU Extension horse management specialist.

The Thursday program is jointly sponsored by the animal husbandry and veterinary medicine departments. Thursday's session will open with Dr. Dallas Goble, MSU equine clinician, discussing vaccination needs of Michigan horses. He will be followed by Dr. Larry Booth, MSU equine clinical resident, talking about threat of E.I.A. (swamp fever).

The afternoon session will comprise control guidelines for internal parasites. Dr. Thomas Bello, professor of veterinary science, Louisiana State University, will be the featured speaker.

Bello will elaborate on preventive steps and needed drug treatments for the bloodworm and other parasites.

The program is open to the general public at no charge.

This is the 61st annual MSU Farmers' Week with the theme "Spirit with a Purpose," in which extension's services to Michigan residents will be emphasized.

"Extension has been in the business continuously since 1914 of extending educational information from the university. This system is based on the belief that human progress can be enhanced if the products of research can be translated into lay language and made available to individuals for a higher quality of decision making," said Dr. Denio Caul, MSU Extension assistant director. "Its success in Michigan and the U.S., in developing the world's most productive agriculture, has been recognized throughout the world. Extension has proved its ability to improve the quality of life of those it reaches."

More than 165 educational sessions during the week will feature 295 speakers from MSU, the United States and Canada. Scores of MSU departmental displays and the virtual fair of commercial exhibits, worth more than $2.5 million, are intended for farmers and nonfarmers alike.

MHSAA adds 13th weight to format

Changes also affect wrestling weight control

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

In an attempt to lure "bigger kids" on to the mats, the Michigan High School Athletic Association passed a recommendation to add a new weight class to the high school format. Beginning with the 1976-77 season, a new weight class - 191 - will be sandwiched between the 178 and heavyweight classes.

It is the first time in recent years that the MHSAA has made an attempt to get the bigger kid out of the sport of wrestling.

The original 12 basic weights were: 98, 105, 119, 126, 132, 138, 145, 155, 167, 188 and heavyweight. The new format doesn't touch upon the weights up to 155, however, from thereon it will be 165, 178, 191 and then heavyweight. Many coaches feel the new format will create an additional incentive for the athlete coming from football programs to wrestling.

"Our experience has shown that we can get the scrappy little kids and middle weight class wrestlers," said

Don Haney, Wayne Memorial's veteran coach, "but we can't get the heavier weight kids to come out for the sport."

"I just hope we can get more big kids out," Haney added. "They (the bigger kids) tend to stay away from the sport because they learn that it's very demanding."

Belleville's Gerald Malecek felt that the new format would help schools which don't have any trouble getting the big kids.

"It's good for schools that have a lot of big kids," Malecek said about the revised weight classification. "But we have had problems just finding a heavyweight here in recent years."

"Some coaches like the idea because they get the heavier kids off of the football teams," he said.

Bob Lusk, John Glenn's head coach, also doesn't feel that the new weight class is a good idea.

"I personally don't think it was a good idea because finding wrestlers for the upper weight have been a problem. The quality of wrestling in the upper classes hasn't been that good, in general, and adding another weight isn't going to help."

The new weight class creates a position in the lineup for the "pocket battleship" heavyweight - the boy in the 190-220 pound category. Wrestlers of this size may wrestle each other on a more even footing. In past years they have run up against heavyweights who tipped the scales at 225 and more pounds.

The MHSAA also offered a weight control program in order to fight abuses in weight cutting.

Denby ends Franklin hopes

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Denby may have had its problems during school hours last week but the Detroiters didn't let the racial strife affect their basketball game.

Led by 6-11 center Stuart House, Denby ended Livonia Franklin's hopes for a regional Class A basketball championship by eliminating Coach Bob Visser's Patriots in the semi-final round 70-51.

Denby went on to win the regional title by beating Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

"House was just too much for us," Visser said. "I felt our boys did the things they had to to win, but the big guy (House) was always around to intimidate you."

"I wouldn't be surprised if Denby went all the way this year," Visser added.

The loss left Franklin with a 16-8 season. However, since the new year, the Patriots have won 16 out of 19 games. The comeback is one of the best ever staged by a local quintet. Franklin had lost its first five games before earning its first victory.

The Patriots put on one of their comebacks against the visiting Denby team as they came within five points in the final four minutes of erasing a 48-34 third period deficit.

Dan Pederson led a fourth period Franklin surge with three baskets while Sam Williams chipped in with two field goals, but, with the score at 50-45, Denby widened the margin by hitting the next three field goals.

The Detroiters established a 14-9 first period bridge which carried them to a 11-point lead at halftime, 32-21. They maintained a 48-34 wedge for three periods.

"Our boys played a hard game and they never quit. I'm proud of them," Visser said.

House and James Newman accounted for 50 of Denby's 70 points. The muscular 6-11 center pumped in 11 field goals and made 4 of 4 at the free throw line for 26 points while Newman drilled in 24.

John Elmore wound up his prep cage career at Franklin with the team high of 12 points. Pederson settled for 10 - five field goals.

Leading Franklin's assault on the boards were Sam Williams and Elmore who split 14 rebounds between them.

Matmen capture 5 medals

Competing in two tournaments in three days, the Wayne-Westland Wolverine Wrestling Club captured five gold medals in AAU Age Group competition.

Coach Sam Adams' grapplers traveled to Waterford to compete in the Midshipman Invitational and returned with gold medals in the 9-10 age group where John Novick placed first at 85-pounds.

The Wolverines also earned first places with Robb Paciocco (80) and Mike Novick (126) in 11-12 year old competition.

Mike Conboy claimed a second place and Chris Zimmerman placed third in 49, and 72-pound classes, respectively. They competed in eight-and-under group, while Ron Pittman finished second at 85-pounds in 11 and 12 year old age class.

Wayne's impressive heavyweight Keith Zimmerman also earned a gold medal.

In 13-and 14 year old competition, Joe Justin was the top 105-pounder. Teammates Jeff Rose and Blair Temple finished in the runner-up slot at 112 and 126-pound classes and Duane Gibbs was third at 133.

The Wolverines also took part in the Webster Wrestling Invitational at Hazel Park and came away with a pair of first places thanks to Zimmerman and Novick (126).

Victor Golden came within one victory of claiming a first place in the eight-and under class for 49-pounds and Paciocco finished second at 80-pounds in the 11-12 age group. John Novich was third for 9-20 years olds at 85.

All-Area is coming your way

Though Spring is just around the corner, there are three winter sports features that are a "must" for all local prep fans.

And, starting next week, The Associated Newspapers will unveil its star-studded All-Area Wrestling, Swimming and Basketball teams.

The teams will be selected by Sports Editor Tom Mooradian in cooperation with the area high school coaches. They'll include the top players and coaches of the year for each sport.

Off to fast start

mile relay teams in the state as Coach Barry Basel's Rockets finished second to Pontiac Central at the prestigious Metropolitan Detroit Mile Relay Invitational. The Westlanders were clocked in 3:33.5.

Off to good Class B start

Spartans swim 5th in state

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Cherry Hill made its debut in Class B state swimming competition an auspicious one as Coach Jerry Pawloski's Spartans finished fifth among the state powers at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

A Class A school for over a decade, Cherry Hill dropped into the "B" ranks when its student population dipped last fall.

"These kids did an outstanding job for us," said Pawloski whose swimmers picked up a total of 96 points to trail newly-crowned state champ, East Grand Rapids and three others in the final standings.

East Grand Rapids amassed 174 points to outdistance runner-up Okemos which has 143. Then came Milan with 121 and Grand Rapids Northview with 96.

Zeroing in on state record

Belleville's foursome of Ward Tomich (from left) Russ Bearance, Joe Thomas and Mike Stoelton captured first place in the 400-yard freestyle relay at the Ann Arbor "A" Meet over the weekend. The winning time 3:35.8 was six-tenths of a second off the state AAU record for 13-14 year-olds. The Tiger quartet hopes to break that mark on March 26 when Belleville competes in the state AAU Invitational to be held at Royal Oak.

Belleville's 400-yard freestyle relay team came within six-tenths of a second of tying the 13-year-old AAU Age Group State swim record at the Ann Arbor "A" Meet.

Coach John Stosick's lineup of Ward Tomich, Russ Bearance, Joe Thomas and Mike Stoelton was clocked in the winning time of 3:35.8 for the event. That time was close to the existing state record of 3:35.2.

"The meet was a good warm-up for next week's AAU state finals," said Stosick, "for next week's AAU state finals," said Stosick. "We hope our team could do it then."

ANDRE RICHARDSON

Richardson ends career

Andre Richardson, a former All-Area cager out of Inkster, brought the curtains down to a successful collegiate career last week at Bowling Green State University.

Richardson, a 6-foot-8 forward, scored 9.0 and hauled down 8.5 rebounds per game this season as the Falcons closed out their campaign at Kent State.

Bowling Green scored a thrilling 61-57 win over Kent in the first meeting in a game which wasn't decided until Ron Hammye cashed two foul shots in the final four seconds.

Celtics eye MRPA state cage title

Breaking to use in the second half, the Celtics beat back a pesky Michigan Bell 90-48 to win the Wayne

Parks and Recreation Class A basketball title.

The title gave the champs a ticket to the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association's state finals which will be held Friday at Central Michigan University at Mt. Pleasant.

The Celtics held a slim 43-42 edge after the first two periods over Michigan Bell when Bob Bickers sparked a second half rally which turned the close game into a one-sided Celtics' affair.

Vickers wound up with 20 points, the game's high while teammates Jim Williams and Dale Rumberger counted 18 and 14 respectively. The Celts also had two other players, Mitch Smith and Al Smith in double figures. Mitch scored 12 while Al had 11.

Former All-Area Inkster cager Greg Nero was top scorer for Michigan Bell, collecting 19 and mate Stan Hubbard pumped in 14 points.

In other competition, Turner's Total exploded for 27 points in the second period to stun Ernie's Towing 85-72 in their season finale.

Ray Turner picked up 22 points for the playoff champ while John Jesson and John Kanter each accounted for 19 points. Randy Williams sank 13.

Denny Rogowski was highman for the game as he drilled 28 points in a losing cause. Ron Hays tallied 12 and Tim Abramski added 10 for the losers.

New rule

eliminating the most criticized aspect of wrestling (weight cutting), there continues to be abuses because of over zealous coaches, parents or athletes," the MHSAA writes.

"The rules committee is cognizant of this and adopted a change which recommends state associations strengthen their weight control programs in three specific areas: First, by requiring a wrestler to establish his certified minimum weight prior to Jan. 1 or at the time of his first match after that date.

"Secondly, once the wrestler is certified, there should be no recertification at a lower weight during that wrestling season, and, finally, the committee recommends weight control programs follow the growth allowance progress specified by the rules which allows an additional pound beginning on Jan. 1, one pound on Feb. 1 and another pound on March 1."

In essence, the MHSAA is telling its members that it will no longer tolerate abuses in extreme weight cutting.

BOB KRUSE

Mat award

Ex-John Glenn wrestler Bob Kruse was awarded Wayne State University's traditional "Captain's Plaque" for his outstanding performance this season.

Kruse is a four-year Tartar letter-winner who had his career interrupted for one season because of a knee surgery. Normally a 167-pounder, Kruse often wrestled out of his weight class at 177 or 190 pounds to help the Tartar efforts.

Kruse was one of only two seniors on this year's WSU team.

If you do much of your engine work yourself, a decision you must periodically make is whether to replace spark plugs, breaker points and filters as a matter of course, or whether to re-use them. The rule of thumb, if these parts have deteriorated beyond salvage, is that you must replace them. However, though some parts can safely be re-used, you should carefully consider replacing them if you follow the schedule specified in your owner's manual and perform a tune-up only once a year. Cleaning is not complete restoration.

Replace worn parts with quality items from KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster. We have everything you need to keep your foreign or domestic car running and looking at its best. We also have a complete machine shop service for turning brake drums, grinding valves, or rebuilding engines. (Remember, if a job is too complicated for you to handle yourself, bring your car to your local garage or service station mechanic for expert help). At KOSIN'S we specialize in parts and tools for all foreign and domestic cars. Call us at 563-3894, or stop in any day until 8 P.M. (Saturdays until 5 P.M.).

Doing a tune-up? Dress safely with short or tight sleeved shirts and leave off wrist watches, rings and other jewelry.

Wayne harrier becomes Hillsdale's top runner

Jeff Doyle of Wayne has become one of the top distance men and one of the tri-captains of the Hillsdale College track team.

A graduate of Riverview Community High School, Jeff's track record there is one of notability. He was coached by Jim Muncio and Dennis Holland and was the regional champ in the 2-mile for two years and all-state one year, while collecting four track letters.

In his Hillsdale career, Jeff has been the All-State indoor 2-mile champ (1973), the state champ in the outdoor 6-mile (1975) and still holds the steeplechase record from 1974 at 9:52.

In a dual meet against Aquinas College February 21st, Jeff ran a third place mile in 4:27.5, only four-tenths from second place. At the Eastern Michigan University Track Classic, Doyle ran an excellent time in the 2 mile run of 9:12.4, a personal best for him and just off the school record time of 9:11.

A senior accounting major this is Doyle's last season with the Hillsdale College Chargers.

Among his other accomplishments at Hillsdale Jeff has been an All-Stater in cross country for four years, was state cross country champion in '75 and at the NAIA nationals in '75 he finished 34th.

Other than participating in sports, Jeff has acted as head of the school's intramural sports program for two years.

March of Dimes WALKATHON

Why was so much electric service out for so long?

Those who were inconvenienced are entitled to answers. Here, from Detroit Edison, are answers to the questions that we have been asked most.

Southeastern Michigan has just experienced one of the worst ice storms in its history. In terms of disruption of electrical service, it was the worst disaster in the 73-year period during which Detroit Edison has served the people of this area.

So severe were the effects of the storm—compounded by succeeding rain, wind, and electrical storms—that it took several days to determine the full extent of the damage.

One out of every five customers was affected directly by interrupted service during this period. Few, if any, escaped the storm without any inconvenience. Accordingly, we are making every effort to insure that everyone has the facts about the storm and the electrical service disruption and restoration resulting from it.

How extensive was the damage?

To date we have counted more than 300,000 homes and businesses that have been without electricity at some time since Monday night March 1. Thus the storm has affected directly more than one million people. Hardest hit were Oakland County with 87,000 homes and businesses out of service, the Thumb area with 81,000, and the Detroit area with 79,000. To put this in perspective, a storm is normally severe if we receive 5,000 telephone calls. So far we have received nearly 225,000 calls regarding this storm!

Could anything have been done to avoid such severe damage?

Not that we know of. We have continued to place top priority on maintaining both our electrical system and the skills of our crews. However, there is no way to avoid the effects on electric power lines of natural disasters such as this.

Why were the extent of damage and number of outages originally underestimated?

Because this storm dwarfed anything ever experienced in the past, the "normal" indices did not apply. For example, where circuit disruptions commonly cut power in 10-20 percent of the homes they cover, this time they were affecting 70-90 percent. Only detailed and time-consuming visual inspections and data analysis ultimately revealed the true figures. In addition, the problem of fallen poles—more than 1,000—and new wire requirements as high as a million feet are totally unprecedented. However, the underestimate in no way delayed a single service restoration. Emergency crews were requested from neighboring utilities early Tuesday evening, March 2, when approximately 16,000 calls had been received.

How were repair priorities determined?

First priority is always to restore facilities critical to health and safety, such as hospitals and municipal pumping facilities, homes that contain life-support equipment, such as kidney dialysis machines, and fallen exposed wires. Second priority is assigned to facilities that will produce the greatest number of service restorations in the shortest possible time.

Did certain geographic areas receive special treatment?

No. The Thumb area is the last to have complete restoration. That, however, is due to the difficulty of determining the extent of the damage there, the need for extensive rebuilding, the time involved in assembling large quantities of materials and manpower, and the added obstacles of mud and water.

Why has it taken so long to complete the repairs?

Beyond the factors already noted, much of the damage occurred—or reoccurred—during subsequent rain, wind and electrical storms. Consequently, new outages were still developing through last weekend. Perhaps the whole problem is put in better perspective if you consider that nearly one-fifth of our entire electrical distribution system had to be restored, and in some cases almost completely rebuilt.

How many people were involved in making the repairs?

In all more than 5,000 Detroit Edison employees, contract personnel, and crews borrowed from other utilities were directly involved, turning their maximum effort to restoring service disruptions following this storm. We are extremely proud of what they have done.

Suppose my estimated bill is too high because of an outage?

This may happen. If it does, you may pay the bill and any overpayment will be adjusted with the next reading. Or you can call or visit your nearest Edison office and ask us to adjust the bill based on the amount of time you were out of service. In either case, the billing will be corrected at the next meter reading.

What did we learn for the future?

The Detroit Edison Company has been dealing with storms throughout its history. In so doing we have constantly improved our capability. Most recently we had instituted a centralized storm center in our Detroit headquarters, consolidated all of our Oakland county operations in a single divisional headquarters building, and developed a computerized storm analysis system. All of these—and more—helped to speed the repair and restoration process this time. And going through this, the worst storm in our history, has taught us much that will undoubtedly help us to do a better and faster job of restoring service in future storms. Also, many of our customers have probably learned that it is wise to keep supplies available for emergency use. Most of all, we learned that our customers are understanding and patient beyond expectations, good neighbors to us and to each other, and the kind of people we are proud to serve.

What can you do to help?

In addition to stocking up for emergencies, please continue in the future to report to us any abnormalities in service or appearance of any of our lines or other materials. By correcting these during non-emergency periods, we can often avoid damage during emergencies.

How much is the repair work costing and who will pay?

It will be several months before the full extent of damage is known in terms of cost—partly because the repair work to our system will continue long after all homes and businesses are back in service. But the figure will probably exceed $10 million—a magnitude of risk that insurance companies have declined to cover completely in recent years. Consequently it appears that about $1 million will be covered by insurance. Most of the remainder is included as an operating expense by Detroit Edison and will be considered by the Public Service Commission—along with all other valid business expenses—in setting rates in the future.

Can it happen again?

That's a frightening question to consider, particularly at a time like this, but just as it happened this month it can happen again. If it does, all of us will be even better prepared to deal with it. In the meantime, we at Detroit Edison will continue to make every effort to provide, reliably and safely, needed electric energy to enhance the lives of the people of Southeastern Michigan.

Richmond Research Team Discovers 'Enriched Flavor.'

MERIT taste secret found by isolating key flavor ingredients in cigarette smoke, then adding them to tobacco.

In Richmond, Virginia, there's an eight-story building that houses the main Research Facility for Philip Morris.

Around the company they call it the Tower. It's here that pure research in tobacco yielded what might be the most significant smoking advance since the filter.

It's called 'Enriched Flavor.' It comes in the tobacco of a new kind of low tar cigarette.

MERIT.

Only 9 mg. of tar. Yet with astonishing flavor.

If you enjoy a full-flavor cigarette now — but would like to find a low tar smoke with a taste you can switch to and stick with — you'll be interested.

Key Flavor Ingredients Of Tobacco Isolated

'Enriched Flavor' was developed by "cracking" cigarette smoke down into its basic ingredients, and isolating special key units that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

'Enriched Flavor' is extra flavor. Natural flavor. Flavor that can't burn out, can't fade out, can't do anything but come through for you.

We packed MERIT with 'Enriched Flavor' and began a series of taste tests.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

Thousands of filter cigarette smokers tested 9 mg. tar MERIT against five current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.*

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much — or more — taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette.

MERIT. Incredible smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.

From Philip Morris.

*American Institute of Consumer Opinion. Study available free on request. Philip Morris Inc., Richmond, Va. 23261
